

Greater Spear-Nosed Bat ~
Phyllostomus hastatus

Greater Spear-nosed bats are found in Central and northern parts of South America. This species roosts in caves, hollows in trees, termite mounds and occasionally in buildings. It is omnivorous, most commonly feeding on fruit, pollen and insects but sometimes eats vertebrates.

